Celebrate the Summer Solstice with the heartbeat of the earth—drumming!

As the longest day of the year arrives, gather in rhythm and community to honor the sun's peak with the primal power of percussion. Whether around a bonfire, in a forest clearing, or on the beach at sunset, drumming on the solstice is a timeless tradition that connects us to nature, spirit, and each other. Let each beat mark gratitude for light, life, and the turning of the seasons. No experience needed—just bring your hands, your heart, and your joy!
